I am an undergraduate student of Development Economics at UIN Jakarta with experience in social media management, content planning, and public relations. I have successfully increased engagement and reach on Instagram, TikTok, X, YouTube, and LinkedIn accounts through creative content strategies and audience analysis. I am proficient in using various software such as Canva, CapCut, Microsoft Office, and Google Workspace. Additionally, I possess strong communication skills, problem-solving abilities, and teamwork. With a creative, innovative, and critical mindset, I am ready to contribute to creating relevant and impactful content for the company.
